KING EDWARD VI. SCHOOL,
BURY ST. EDMUND'S,
SUFFOLK.

Headmaster's Notes.

IT was with deep regret that the School learnt of the death of Sir John Tilley, a former Governor and Comptroller. During his term of office Sir John showed that intense interest which so characterised his activities and to the last he retained a connection with us by his annual gift of a prize for reading aloud, he himself invariably coming to judge the finalists.

For the whole of the Term we have been without the services of Mr. E. P. Hallam who underwent a serious operation during the Easter holidays. His progress, however, has been excellent and we look forward to having him with us once again in September. At the same time we are grateful to Mr. J. Patton for undertaking the music teaching for the term.

Congratulations to Mr. O. Wood, M.A., B.Sc., on his achievement in becoming a Ph.D. of London University.

We are most grateful to Mr. H. C. Drayton for addressing the School on Speech Day—it meant a big sacrifice of time in a very busy life—and to the Rt. Rev. the Lord Bishop of Dunwich for preaching at our Founder's Day Service. He, too, leads a life full of activity, and was due at Beccles that same evening, prior to driving back to Woodbridge.

Congratulations to A. T. B. Gould (Discus), F. E. Bishop (Half-mile), B. Loades (Long Jump), J. L. Miles (Shot), A. G. Lee (High Jump) and P. Abbott (100), on winning their events at the recent Suffolk Sports and on establishing six new records.

Easter Excursion, 1952.

Monday, the 21st of April, proved to be a rainy day with a dull, overcast sky which in no way reflected the spirits of the party assembled at Bury Station at 9.30 a.m. Having arrived at Bletchley we set out to walk to Ivinghoe, but at Leighton Buzzard, after six miles, the foot-sore caught a bus, while the remainder plodded on, ultimately to accept a lift on a sand lorry. At Ivinghoe we were joined by the remainder of the party.

We had arranged to stay at a Youth Hostel each evening, walking each day to the next hostel, or visiting places of interest. Our luggage and food we carried in packs, and we reckoned we could average about sixteen miles a day.

Our first visit was to Whipsnade Zoo and thence to Ashbridge Park. During the day we came across several chalk structures, previously experienced only in Geography lessons. After tea at a wayside inn we returned to Ivinghoe, our last spot of energy expending itself in a football match on the village green.

On Wednesday we passed along the Chilton escarpment. Leaving Ivinghoe by field paths and by-roads, we crossed the little used Grand Junction Canal on our way to Tring, Wendover, and Princes Risborough. After climbing both Coomb Hill and the steep-sided Cymbeline Mountain we passed through Chequers and on to Oxford for the night.

Next morning we toured the Morris Works, walking along the production lines and seeing how each car grew from a grim looking tin outline. The many leaflets we collected were duly deposited at the next hostel. After lunch in a nearby park we caught a bus to Woodstock to visit Blenheim Palace before making for Charlbury, our next stopping place.

On Friday we walked through Cotswold country, visiting Chipping Norton and Stow-on-the-Wold.

Saturday saw us walk a distance of just over eighteen miles in typical limestone country of stone walls, stone houses, rough pastureland and stone quarries. On the escarpment of the Cotswolds we had hoped to see ten or eleven counties, but unfortunately we could see barely a mile ahead. From Chipping Campden we caught a bus to Bourton-on-the-Hill before returning on foot to Stow-on-the-Wold.

Sunday was a really hot day and walking became an effort. However, we reached the three Rissington villages before our party split into three before joining up again at Oxford in the evening.

On Monday we travelled by bus to Aylesbury where the party finally broke up, some leaving for Ivinghoe to collect their cycles, some departing for Leighton Buzzard, Bletchley, and home.

We had a splendid trip and our thanks are due to Mr. Smeltzer for a very happy time. J.L.M.

Speech Day, Saturday, June 26th.

That the youth of the country must carry on the struggle for liberty and freedom formed the basis of the address by Mr. H. C. Drayton, of Plumton Hall, Whepstead, the well-known financier.

Recently on his visit to South Africa, said Mr. Drayton, he saw one of the old boys of the School, Gordon Richdale, who in four years had carved out for himself a position which was unique. He had come to be looked upon as a man of integrity and character, and as one who could deal in principles.

"Education, to my way of thinking," said Mr. Drayton, "is not only a question of being crammed with facts and knowledge. School is a place where boys also absorb principles, and the sign of good education is: does that school turn out its boys with principles well grounded? One of the basic principles which you have to learn at school and must carry through life and which forms the basis of our whole future is the willingness to fight for liberty and freedom. You may be successful in a material way, you may be successful in a scholastic sense, but unless there is freedom and liberty—freedom to say, to think, to read, and to write what you like—then there is no joy and no happiness."

The fight for freedom had been going on in Britain for centuries, and all the time had been building up our democracy. The younger generation must carry on the fight, which would open up vistas in the material world, and would enable them to develop intellectually.

"Without that freedom and liberty," concluded Mr. Drayton, "you will not have full development of your own self either mentally or bodily, and neither will the country be a happy country. Liberty is the most important thing in the whole of life. From freedom and liberty stems every other activity, and it gives you the right to order your own life in a reasonable manner according to your own way of thinking or belief."

Prizes were presented as follows :

CHARACTERS OF THE ELEVEN.

- *H. C. SHELBOURNE (capt). Though he did not perhaps appreciate the full range of his off-the-field duties, he took his captaincy seriously on the field, and, in particular, handled his bowlers well. Batting consistently, he has a fine range of attacking strokes as well as a sound defence. Is a good close-in fielder, and in the last few matches proved a useful change bowler.
- *M. L. COLLIER (vice-captain). Has proved a very useful all-rounder, although his bowling has not been up to last season's standard. His batting has been spasmodic, but he can play a very good innings provided he does not lose concentration. He also tends to fall asleep in the field, but here again he can be good.
- *A. T. B. GOULD. Has had a really first-class year. His batting has been a feature, and he has been most consistent even if, on occasions, tending to be a little slow. His bowling has also been extremely accurate and dangerous and his fielding excellent.
- *B. L. LOADES (wkt.) He did not reach his best form until mid-way through the season, but since then he has kept wicket brilliantly. He has excellent anticipation and is extremely agile. He is not, unfortunately, a batsman.
- †P. E. ABBOTT. Has proved a very useful attacking batsman but has fallen off somewhat towards the end of term. His fielding has been keen and good but his throwing-in needs to be somewhat quicker.
- †D. M. RUSH. He is a very steady opening bat, and although not a prolific scorer, has always given the impression of confidence and steadiness. He has also been one of the outstanding fielders of the year, having taken some excellent catches in the slips.
- †M. BULL. Is a slow bowler who spins the ball a great amount. He has always proved a danger to our opponents, although men's teams have less difficulty in playing him than do school XI's. His fielding has been somewhat erratic but he proved a better fielder towards the end of the season.

†D. J. FLACK. Came into the 1st XI. midway through the season and immediately showed his capabilities as an attacking opening bat. His defensive strokes are, however, rather wild and have led to his downfall when he might have been set for a big score.

D. C. FARROW. Only towards the end of the season has he proved himself with the bat. Originally included as a bowler, he could not find any length. He is a good fielder, although his throwing-in is, on occasion, somewhat wild.

R. P. BANHAM. Has played throughout the season as a fast-medium change bowler. Although he is very consistent, his bowling lacks the bite to make him outstanding. He is a very good fielder.

P. C. FRYER. Has not played regularly, mainly owing to the fact that his fielding is very poor. He might be a useful bat, but he tries to force every ball, rather than contenting himself with an ordinary defensive shot.

J. DANGERFIELD. He again has not played in every match. He has the potentialities to make a good batsman, but just has not shown his real ability. His fielding has invariably been excellent.

Also played—

M. Q. SHELBOURNE. Playing late in the season for the 1st XI. he should prove a first class player in future seasons. His bowling as yet lacks consistency. He will also be an extremely useful attacking bat, but at the moment he attacks somewhat too much.

* Full Colours. † Half-Colours.

2nd XI. COLOURS.

T. G. Orbell, M. Q. Shelbourne,
R. E. Lambourne, J. L. Miles.

CRICKET REVIEW.

The First Eleven has had another very successful season, and this, I feel, will be carried on next year as there are some extremely promising players ready to make their 1st XI. bow. The 2nd XI. under the captaincy of T. G. Orbell, has once more had only a moderate season, this being due to the calls of the first XI. The various Junior XI.'s have also had only a moderate season, but here again there are many very promising players.

Once more our thanks are due to Dangerfield who has done the difficult job of store-keeper extremely well and also to Bruce, who, although not a player, has prepared and marked all our pitches for us. H.C.S.

C.C.F. Notes.

This has been a difficult term for the C.C.F. Very little help has been given by Regular Army Instructors, though 9 Travelling Wing visited us twice during the term. Our normal Signals Instructor was posted to Wales for the whole of the three summer months, and as a result the Classification Tests had to be abandoned. It seems that we shall have, in future, to rely mainly on Cadet N.C.Os. for most of the training.

On July 1st the Contingent was inspected by Colonel R. P. Freeman-Taylor, O.C. East Anglian Brigade, and in a short address at the end of the parade he emphasised the importance of a high standard of drill. This was emphasised in his report, in which he gave his opinion that drill is at present our weak point.

Two enjoyable Field Days were held during the term, a Map Exercise on May 20th, and a full scale Field Exercise on July 22nd, which was conducted by Lt.-Col. Pye, O.C. 4th Bn. The Suffolk Regiment.

An extra Certificate "A" Board was held at Blenheim Camp on July 23rd, and, as a result of this, thirty out of thirty-one candidates entered for Part 1 and Part 2 during the year were successful.

Sixteen Cadets attended the Annual Camp at Shorncliffe from July 29th till August 6th. An account of this Camp appears elsewhere, but one point which cannot be too much emphasised is the necessity of a greater number attending.

Shooting was not pursued on so extensive a scale as last year, when the last of our reserve ammunition was used up, but a great deal of time was occupied on the Range. Thirty-three Cadets became first-class shots, a qualification which has to be renewed every year, and nine N.S.R.A. Marksmen's Badges were won.

C.C.F. Camp.

Sixteen Cadets (including four N.C.O's.) spent the first eight days of the Summer holidays under canvas at St. Martin's Plain Camp, near Folkestone, where some 30 other School Contingents were represented. (Some of the 'lesser breeds,' however, lived in wooden huts.) For some of us it was our first C.C.F. Camp. What now do we recollect? The Drumhead Service, perhaps, on the Sunday, occurs to us first, with the impressive singing in the open air and the inspiring address in which we were exhorted, in the words of St. Paul, to act justly, to love mercy and to walk humbly with God. And we remember the warm sunshine. Only on the Saturday was there any rain worthy of mention—Saturday, when training took second place, a half-holiday was arranged, and Kent were to have played Hampshire at Canterbury.

The weather for the most part was excellent. We had rides in Army trucks through the lovely Kent countryside, with the striking view of Folkestone town and harbour as one climbs out of that town along the Dover road. We did some marching, and on August Bank Holiday we were surprised at being required to "debus" and march two miles or so from what we thought was journey's end, having led our convoy into the heart of the country to witness a "demonstration." We experienced something of Army discipline, and by the end of the week we were on parade five minutes before time (ten minutes early!). Perhaps, too, at the end, we felt that we knew something of the meaning of the word "comradeship." We were few in number—can't more go next year?—but we had our "characters" and did not go unnoticed. Cadet E...s informed us, however, that we were beaten by two schools for the honour of taken the shortest Cadet to Camp.

Finally we must record the unexpected last day climax, when a few of us helped to haul two firemen and an unconscious young lady 90 feet up Shakespeare Cliff, near Dover. The young lady, whose fall had been broken by a narrow ledge one-third of the way down, had been first seen by L/Cpl. Shelton, and in a very short time the firemen had arrived and had been lowered with a stretcher over the cliff edge. P.F.J.D.

Scout Notes.

During the past term the Troop had 34 members, 10 of whom were seniors. This included 5 First Class and 11 Second Class Scouts. Also 5 Proficiency Badges were gained.

The result of Bob-a-Job Week was very satisfactory. The total amount earned was £12 8s. 8d., representing about 6s. 6d. per head.

Activities have continued as before under the guidance of the seniors. Our thanks are due to Kohler and Bickell for their work on the Scout Hut, which we have at last been able to face with wood slabs, giving it the appearance of a log cabin and making it weather-proof. Bickell has also carried out repairs to the tents, and Dangerfield has devoted much time to the care and sorting out of our equipment.

The Butterfield Cup was presented to the Kestrels.

On June 12th, part of the School attended a very impressive Service at the Cathedral in which the Princess Royal, as President of the British Red Cross Society, presented the Colours to the Suffolk Branch of the Society.

The Boarders enjoyed a very good performance of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" in the Cloister Gardens which was given by the Bury Amateur Operatic and Dramatic Society.

All those from the School who represented West Suffolk at the County Sports here at Bury on June 28th did exceedingly well, in that six out of the fifteen records broken at that Sports Meeting were obtained by our competitors, a noteworthy achievement. Later, three of our number were privileged to represent Suffolk in the All England S.A.A. Sports, held at Bradford on July 11th—12th.

A very interesting topical talk on Malaya was given by Mr. Athisayam in which he showed the social and political conditions which prevail there. The talk was illustrated by a film.

Three films were shown to the junior section of the School entitled "Frogmen," "Submarine Patrol" and "Malta Convoy," which provided them with a good deal of excitement and enthusiasm.

On Friday, July 25th, the Sixth Form Geography students had a most interesting illustrated talk from Mr. Gorst, the County Planning Officer.

A. G. LEE.

Old Boys' Notes.

Major M. E. Peppiatt, R.A., is now in command of an Amphibious Observation Troop—a mixed unit of sailors and soldiers with the job of directing the shore fire of naval guns. They operate between Hong Kong and Korea.

Major N. M. Boys, who will be in camp near Thetford during August, is attached to a Territorial Unit of Paratroops for training purposes. On a recent exercise they were flown from Surrey to Mildenhall and dropped nearly two hundred Paratroops in a mock attack on the aerodrome.

No fewer than six Old Boys have been in contact with one another in Malaya—M. S. Paddon, P. Cooke, A. G. B. Cobbald, J. P. Macdonald, L. Shorter and M. J. Boughton. M. S. Paddon hopes to enter the Colonial Service in Malaya, and has been studying Chinese for the past sixteen months. P. Cooke expects to be home in August. When he wrote the Malays were in the midst of a month's fast, eating only during the hours of darkness, prior to the feast of Hari Raya Puasa.

D. M. Kidd has finished his course as a Radio Mechanic at Catterick Camp and has applied for entry into the R.M.A., Sandhurst. He has met E. J. Knight and P. Bates. The latter is waiting to go before the Regular Commissions Board.

M. R. Wilson has now left H.M.S. "Sea Devil" for H.M.S. "Scotsman," after an interval with H.M.S. "Aeneas," operating from Londonderry. He has now been promoted to Lieutenant.

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. & Mrs. E. H. Pask who were married in June. We were delighted to meet them on Founder's Day, and to have Pask playing the organ for the service in the Cathedral—a service taken by two other old Boys, the Rev. J. R. M. Wright and the Rev. D. Savill. The latter was recently ordained in the Cathedral and he has since joined the Staff of the Cathedral. We congratulate him on his recent engagement.

A. St. J. Jermy is awaiting the result of his Sandhurst examination. In the meanwhile he has taken a temporary post with the Gas Research Board at Beckenham.

C. A. Morris has gone to the Argentine to join his parents. He hopes to accompany them on missionary tours through Argentina, Chile, Uruguay and Paraguay. By working in a bookshop in Buenos Aires he expects to save enough to pay for a full-time course in missionary work.

Congratulations to O. R. Todd, King's College, London, on becoming a Doctor of Medicine.

J. C. Snell has a Short Service Commission in the R.A.F., and has left for a year's training in Canada.

A. W. Newton, who works at the British Museum, was married in July. Congratulations and best wishes.

P. O. Redfearn was released from the Army in March, and has begun a course at the College of Estate Management in London.

E. Parkin is now a buyer for the British Transport Commission (Road Services) in the West Riding.

A. G. Smith, of the Inland Revenue Department, is working at Reading.

H. S. Turner has passed his final examinations in Mining Surveying and is working in Johannesburg.

The summer camp, held at Hagg Farm, near Bamford, Derbyshire, was very successful. The site was considered the best we have ever had, and the weather remained dry almost the whole time. The 15 boys who attended had a most enjoyable time exploring the district, playing wide games and attending to the usual routine matters such as fire-lighting and cooking. Expeditions for the seniors included a stiff hike round the Kinder Plateau. We also had an interesting tour of the Ladybower Dam and were shown the workings of this vast dam and the reservoirs. I should like to thank the seniors for their help in running the camp, and all who attended for their cheerful co-operation.
