VOL. XXV., No. 8.

KING EDWARD VI. SCHOOL,
BURY ST. EDMUND'S,
SUFFOLK.

Editorial.

ANOTHER Summer Term has come to an end, if indeed the term may be designated 'Summer.' However, in spite of cold and rain we have managed to carry out a complete fixture list at Cricket, have an excellent Sports Day, visit the Swimming Baths regularly, see the Australians playing with Cambridge University, and even enjoy one or two J.T.C. Field Days. So things might have been worse.

Once again there is a dearth of articles for the magazine. One can only be philosophic in view of all that we do want to put in this issue and be grateful that at least the printing expenses will be kept down. In these days it is a hard struggle to make ends meet unless we can add to our circulation. If you are leaving won't you help?

Headmaster's Notes.

Once again we have come to the end of a School Year and have said goodbye to a number of friends. We all join in wishing them every happiness in the bigger world that is opening before them and every success in the careers they have chosen. It is not necessary to remind them that they will always be sure of a warm welcome whenever they are able to come and see us, nor that their letters will always be equally welcome. I hope that they will long maintain a close contact with the School by regularly taking the Burian and that they will join the Old Burians' Association.

Mrs. Bartholomew and Mr. Sadgrove, who have been giving us temporary assistance, will not be with us when next term opens. They have done very valuable work in their short time with us and the School is grateful. In their places we shall have Mr. Martin and Mr. Edwards.

Mr. Butcher has now taken over the organisation of games from Mr. Rich. One and all will join in thanking the latter for the very great assistance he has given as Games Master during the last five years.

Speech Day, June 17th.

Speaking at the School Speech Day in the Athenæum, Sir William Clarke, ex-Private Secretary to two great Premiers, Earl Lloyd George and Mr. Winston Churchill, and a man who probably holds the record for the extent of his air travel in the last few years, said that two Great Wars, especially the last one, had left the world deeply impoverished, creating a spiritual and political upheaval unparalleled in history.

"There is going to be a long period of gradual reconstruction and recovery, and during that time there will be a great need for leadership," he said.

The first fundamental ingredient of leadership was courage, physical and moral, said Sir William, who quoted Earl Lloyd George, Mr. Winston Churchill, Lord Snowdon and General Smuts as shining examples.

THE INGREDIENTS.

With courage must go sympathy and understanding of fellow men, a capacity to envisage both sides of a question before coming to a decision. All could not have those qualities in the measure possessed by the four great men he had mentioned, nor could they have the touch of genius which made the supreme leader.

But they were qualities which could be cultivated, and it was the pride of our schools that they gave scope for their inspiration, progress and development.

GOING OVERSEAS.

Young men, continued Sir William, were queueing at the High Commissioners' offices and at the shipping companies because they wanted to make their lives overseas, especially in the countries of the Empire, but he commended to the younger generation the opportunities to be found in the Colonial Service, which was concerned with leading Colonies and Protectorates on to the status of full self-government. One of the results of the Great War was a passionate urge throughout the world among the dependent countries for independence.

The fire had spread through Asia and Africa, and it was to be found among our European colonies such as Cyprus and in the West Indies. There were, therefore, great opportunities for leadership in the Colonial Services.

SCHOOL TIE.

Thanks to Sir William for his address and for distributing the prizes were extended by Professor Hollond, a Governor of the School, and Mr. Sydney Oliver, the Deputy Comptroller. The latter said he was a great believer in the old school tie because it embodied the traditions of the school.

Presiding on the platform was the Comptroller, Mr. E. W. Steward, supported by the Mayor of Bury (Councillor R. V. Willcox), and Mr. G. R. Pocklington.

Founder's Day, 1948.

A large congregation assembled in the Cathedral on Thursday, July 1st, to celebrate the three-hundred-and-ninety-eighth anniversary of the School's foundation. The service was conducted by the Rev. J. B. Goodchild, the First Lesson being read by the Head Boy (J. M. Ross) and the Second by the Comptroller (Mr. E. W. Steward). The Rev. J. R. M. Wright, an Old Boy of the School, also took part in the Service.

The Rev. Marcus Knight, Canon of St. Paul's, took as his text: "Give instruction to a wise man and he will be yet wiser; teach a righteous man and he will increase in learning."

Tracing a link between the School and St. Paul's Cathedral, Canon Knight referred to the School's distinguished Old Boy, William Sancroft, who, before he became Archbishop of Canterbury, was Dean of St. Paul's. He it was who preached the first sermon there in the ruins left by the Great Fire and it was he who called in Sir Christopher Wren to begin the final clearing away of the ruins and to design the present Cathedral.

"But rather than think about the past, I want you to-day to think about the present and the future, coloured as these are by the rise of science and the scientific outlook." Lord Lindsay, Master of Balliol, had said that the greatest need of our age was that the clever people should become good, and the good people should become clever. The true way of life was one that reconciled the scientific and the idealistic and that way of life could only be brought about by a drawing together of the Schools, the Universities, and the Christian Church. "This is all summed up in our act of worship to-day, in which we come together to recognise and to bow before the One Final Authority over all men, to affirm our belief in the things which remain true and good and beautiful, and to offer our lives and talents to the service of God and our fellow men. If this School can stand for this whole purpose of education and consecrate it to worship, then it will surely be loyal both to its noblest traditions and faithful also to the pressing demands of this bewildered and restless age."

The collection, including subscriptions later sent to the Headmaster, amounted to £13 1s. 3d. After the payment of expenses the balance will go to the Headmaster's Fund for extra school activities.

Swimming.

This summer, weather has not been conducive to swimming in open-air baths, but in spite of frequent cold and rain, there has been quite a good average attendance, with a few hardy boys being present every time. The Swimming Sports were well supported and some of last year's record times were beaten.

Cricket.

BURY SCHOOL v. STOWMARKET G. S.

Played on the School ground on 1st May. Barratt won the toss and sent Stowmarket in to bat on an easy paced wicket. Aggressive bowling soon accounted for the visitors in a rain-marred innings. Stowmarket very sportingly took the field in the rain and the School soon won for the loss of four wickets.

BURY SCHOOL v. BURY C. C. 2ND XI.

Played at home on Thursday, 6th May. Winning the toss, the School batted first on a hard, dry wicket, and the score steadily rose until, with the score at 33, Blumfield, Marshall and Dodds were dismissed in five deliveries. B. Rush stepped in to halt the collapse with some hard hitting. Bury were much aided by dropped catches and poor fielding in their 8-wicket victory.

BURY SCHOOL v. W.S.A.E.C.C.C.

Played on the Victory Ground, Saturday, 8th May. Deciding to bat on a very hard, dry pitch, the School failed completely to stand up to fast bowling as the score shows. However, the W.S.A.E.C.C.C. fared poorly in their innings and a close result followed, the School losing by 3 wickets.

BURY SCHOOL v. CAIUS COLLEGE 2ND XI.

Played at Caius College old ground, Cambridge, on Thursday, 13th May. Good batting by the Caius opening pair put fifty runs on the board in twenty-five minutes, and this, together with loose fielding, demoralized the School team; but the bowlers kept doggedly to their task and Marshall found the tail easy to dismiss. Once again the School showed their distaste of fast bowling. In a second innings we scored 65 for four wickets, B. Rush making 22.

BURY SCHOOL v. KING'S SCHOOL, ELY.

Played at Ely on Thursday, 20th May. The bowling of Dyke and Reynolds was too good for our batsmen, who were unable to stay for more than a few overs each. Ely's batting was fair but their score depended upon two batsmen and the large number of byes. Ely won by eight wickets.

BURY SCHOOL v. NORTHGATE SCHOOL.

Played at Ipswich on Saturday, 22nd May. Hopes rose high when Dodds and Barratt rapidly dismissed the first six wickets for 12 runs, Dodds performing the hat trick, but the tail-enders played carefully to increase the score to 57. The School's reply to the opposing fast bowlers was to collapse once again, the match being lost by 13 runs.

BURY SCHOOL v. ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE 2ND XI.

Played at St. John's Ground, Cambridge, on Thursday, 3rd June. For once the leading batsmen pulled together well and played the bowling on its merits, Ross and Dodds being particularly outstanding. The tail-enders, however, fared very badly and the final total was only 66. This game produced the peak of bad fielding in the School's matches, and dropped catches were responsible for St. John's total of 112 for two. In a second innings we scored 74 for four, Barratt batting well for 38.

BURY SCHOOL v. BURY C. C. 2ND XI.

Played at home on Saturday, 5th June. Not for the first time did the opening bowlers bowl effectively, only to come up against a couple of batsmen who put an end to our dreams of a small total. Scoring for the School was slow and was punctuated with a regular fall of wickets. After the catastrophe of Dodds being run out, the end soon came, despite a patient innings by Marshall. Bury C.C. won by 19 runs.

BURY SCHOOL v. CULFORD SCHOOL.

Played at Culford on Thursday, 10th June.

Two good innings by Culford batsmen put their team in a comfortable position, for the School were left with only seventy minutes to score 83. Dodds had two good spells of bowling but was unable to take wickets. Barratt did most of the scoring for the School and when he was dismissed with the score at 43 for three a draw seemed inevitable, but speedy hitting by Marshall and Blumfield gave us a five-wicket victory.

BURY SCHOOL v. BURY C.C. 2ND XII.

Played on the School ground on Saturday, 12th June.

A good display of bowling and fielding by the School team enabled us to keep a steady stream of Bury C.C. batsmen returning to the pavilion. Barratt's bowling was particularly good on the dry wicket. Watson and Ross gave the School a sound start which was ably continued by Dodds after Watson was dismissed, and the School were able to win comfortably by nine wickets.

BURY SCHOOL v. COUNTY SCHOOL.

Played on the School ground on Saturday, 19th June.

Good School bowling and fielding kept the rate of scoring down to such an extent that, even with Girkin's fine innings, the County School took over a hundred minutes, leaving the School seventy minutes to bat. A first-wicket partnership between Watson and Ross brought the score within four runs of victory, but it was left to Dodds to hit the winning four, the School thus winning by nine wickets.

BURY SCHOOL v. KING'S SCHOOL, ELY.

Played at home on Thursday, 24th June.

Three Ely batsmen mastered the School's bowling and dismissed our hopes when the third wicket partnership added 36 runs. Barratt's method of giving Dodds spells of four overs of pace bowling was very effective as his analysis shows. After the first three School batsmen had added 22 runs there came a complete collapse and we lost by 51 runs.

wicket partnership. Afterwards the bowlers took the upper hand and at the close of play the School were four runs behind with one wicket to fall. The match was decided on the first innings, the Old Boys winning by five runs.

BURY SCHOOL v. EDUCATION COMMITTEE XI.

Played on the School ground on the evening of Wednesday, 21st July.

The School bowlers found difficulty in keeping direction owing to a sharp cross-wind and the opposing batsmen took full advantage of the set-back, completing their innings in only ninety minutes. The School fielding was only fair, but the throwing was vastly improved. All the School's batsmen scored, but a steady flow returned from the wicket, only C. Rush being really active. The School lost by 27 runs.

THE HEADMASTER'S MATCH.

In the last match of the season the School First Eleven acquitted themselves well, not only defeating the Headmaster's side by five wickets but also registering their highest total. Blumfield won the toss and sent the School out to field. After a sunny start the sky soon became overcast although it remained warm. In the fourth over the aggressive Herbert skied a ball for the third time and it was neatly caught by the bowler. Fulcher joined Caruth with the score two for 46. The sun reluctantly re-appeared and the School prospered. In his first and only over Blumfield bowled Fulcher, and Beckerleg on the boundary dismissed Caruth who had made seventeen.

But the School were to do even better. Encouraged by the four wickets, they piled on the pressure and in ten minutes five of the Headmaster's side were dismissed. Dodds next clean bowled their Captain. Although Butcher skilfully avoided the bowling he suffered the same fate as his colleagues. The light after 80 minutes' play was rapidly deteriorating as the Head declared at 73 for nine.

Ross and Rush opened the School's batting, facing Davies with his shuffling action and Stephenson with his deceptive run and good length. The light was very poor when Barratt, with the score 15 for two put a lovely four off Davies to complete his century for the season. Boughton, with his fast deliveries from the farmyard end soon accounted for two wickets, but by this time the light was so bad that the Headmaster put on his slow bowlers. Marshall thereupon hit a confident 39 before he was well caught by Davies. The School had by now passed the Headmaster's declared total and had won the match.

ROYALISTS v. FOREIGNERS.

Played on Saturday, 26th June.

Sound batting by Minns and Barratt was the basis of the Royalists' score of 68. After the rapid dismissal of the three opening Foreigner batsmen, Marshall and C. Rush, added 39 runs, and some hitting by Seddon gave the Foreigners a four wicket victory.

2ND XI. COLOURS.

M. O. R. MINNS.

CHARACTERS OF THE ELEVEN.

- *B. J. BARRATT. Has captained the side well. Despite early setbacks he managed by his own example and shrewd leadership to pull the side together. He proved his ability with both bat and ball and was the best all-rounder in the side.
- *T. W. BLUMFIELD (vice-captain). A fine player to have in the team, and one who revels in a crisis. He is a steady batsman, whose play is somewhat restricted to leg-shots. A useful change bowler, but was inclined to bowl short outside the off-stump. This was probably due to his low arm action. Excellent in the field.
- *R. L. DODDS. An attractive free-scoring batsman, who has met with great success this season. He has bowled extremely well, although a little less pace with a more accurate length would yield greater dividends. Fields brilliantly in any position.
- *G. J. MARSHALL. One of the most improved players in the side. A hard-hitting batsman, but must curb his tendency to loft the ball. A relief bowler, whose spinners have not met with the success they deserve; he used flight cleverly but often overpitched and therefore was inclined to be expensive. Deserved his full colours after his grand performance at Culford.

- *J. M. ROSS. A stylish opening bat, whose play has been consistently good. He can produce beautiful strokes all round the wicket, but seemed to handicap himself by his low stance. A good fielder but must improve his throw-in.
- *C. R. RUSH. A medium pace bowler who achieved considerable success during the latter part of the season. His run was somewhat clumsy and much too long; he should concentrate on rectifying this fault. As a batsman always eager to attack the bowling, he produced some excellent driving shots, and by his carefree attitude was often responsible for turning the tables in our favour. The finest fielder in the eleven.
- †R. B. WATSON. A very plucky batsman, handicapped by his lack of height. Quite stylish, as his delicate leg-shots and flashing off-drives often proved. His running between wickets was weak and in the field he must learn to throw in more accurately.
- †B. R. RUSH. At the beginning of the season he kept wicket but an unfortunate knee injury kept him out of the team for several weeks. A very good batsman who stood up well to fast bowling.
- †D. G. SMITH. An attractive batsman, but who has failed unexpectedly to score many runs. He was excellent in the out-field and always an example to his fellows. He has been worthy of his place in the side.
- †J. C. DUNN. A very keen and enthusiastic player. He batted stylishly, although his scoring shots are limited to the leg-side. Has fielded well in the covers.
- J. D. SIMKINS. A young left-hander who will improve with experience. Very promising all-rounder.
- A. J. BECKERLEG. A wicket-keeper with sound anticipation, but inclined to use his pads too much. His batting was fair, but always lacked concentration.
- M. O. R. MINNS. Has failed to obtain a regular place in the Eleven this season. His bowling has been fast but very erratic, whilst his batting and fielding have been inconsistent.

P. F. SHELBOURNE. Another young player who has kept wicket well. He should soon earn a regular place.

CRICKET REVIEW.

During the past season the School record has not been very impressive, although there have been many enjoyable games, particularly the one against the Old Boys. Lack of practice in the first few weeks accounted for our earlier failures, but after half-term the standard of play gradually improved. In reviewing the XI. one must mention the splendid opening partnership of Ross and Watson against W.S.C.S., and also the many fifth wicket partnerships between Blumfield and Marshall.

The 2nd XI. have shown inconsistent form throughout the term. However, under the capable leadership of Minns there were several good performances towards the end of the season. Our Junior XI. showed great promise and many members have the makings of fine cricketers. The newly formed team for boys under 12 years of age has proved a popular venture.

We thank sincerely Mr. Rich and Mr. Sadgrove for spending a good deal of their time coaching at the nets. Thanks are also due to D. B. Kiddy, E. J. Watsham and J. D. Laws for reconstructing the sports store and for laying two concrete practice pitches.

G. E. Williams and P. Cooke have kept the equipment in good condition, both also carrying out efficiently the duties of umpires. E. J. C. Wright, our scorer, has kept us fully posted with up-to-date statistics.

Switzerland, 1948.

For seven of the seventeen perhaps the longest part of the tour was from Bury to London; for others the channel crossing, while some found the night journey from Paris to Basle took more than a normal night's span of hours. However, it all passed and noon on Tuesday, August 11th, saw us gliding along the shore of L. Thun in the all electric Swiss Express with a grey mist all around and the mountains lost in the clouds.

Soon we were on the mountain railway, following the steep narrow valley of the Lütshime with its white-green snow water and then at Lauterbrunnen. Here we were met by the cheerful Ernest, Porter-Boots-Chauffeur of the *Hotel Weisses Kreuz.

Like the curate's egg, the weather was "good in parts" and the good days were very good. We went up to Mürren by funicular and down to Interlaken and across the lake to Brienz. C bought a watch whose shock-proof qualities he tested frequently by bouncing it along the pavement; others bought walking sticks which they plastered with badges of places they had visited (or even heard of) and the sound of the clicking of cameras was barely equalled by the music of the grasshoppers.

We went by mountain railway to Wengen and walked to the Trümmelbach Falls where the Swiss, improving upon nature, have built a lift to carry the weary traveller from foot to head of the Cascade and where the magnificent fury of falling water is illuminated by red and green lighting. Close by there is an hotel whose coffee and meringues are only less memorable than the falls themselves.

On a glorious Sunday morning we left Lauterbrunnen for Grindelwald, visiting the Jungfrauoch on the way. The saddle, over 11,000 ft. high, between the peaks March and Jungfrau, is reached by mountain railway and has a fine hotel. The weather was cloudless and the brilliant sunshine made a fairy land of snow waste and rocky peak. Here again the Swiss must "Paint the lily and gild refined gold" and so an "Eis Palast" has been dug out of the solid glacier ice and here is the highest voluntary skating in Europe.

Some of the boys skated and the efforts of one C * * * W * * * * are said to have produced some very fine avalanches on the neighbouring mountain sides.

Then we came down through the Kleine Scheidegge to Grindelwald and Schwendi and the Hotel Schweizerhein only more Swiss and only a little less comfortable than the Kreuz.

At Grindelwald we spent a varied week: we bathed, climbed to the untener Grindelwald glacier and peered into the gorge of the Black Lutschine, the unpronounceable Lutschinenschlucht (almost unspellable too). We consumed quarts of "coffee with hot milk" and gallons of tea à l'Anglaise with not a few pastries.

But the "high-spot" of this half of our holiday was the journey to "First." This was accomplished by Sessel Lift, a sturdy couple of armchairs suspended in mid-air from a light steel cable which trundled joyously (or apprehensively) upwards for thousands of feet, jogging across the pylons, past noble pine trees, rocky babbling streamlets and velvety pastures grazed by patient cows.

At the top, about tree level, we came on to the mountain pastures, here and there covered by miniature glaciers and snow fields and everywhere a carpet of the daintiest flowers. All around arose the majestic peaks of the Bernese Oberland, Wetterhorn, Eiger, March, Jungfrau, Breithorn, Silberhorn and others.

Time now took a great leap and it was Saturday. Down we went to Interlaken and across the plateau to Bern, at Bern we spent a whole afternoon. The city is magnificent with noble buildings and marvellous views of distant mountains and the great meander of the R. Aar beneath the city's feet. Here too is the famous Clock Tower whose moving figurines beat the hours and in this fine time I have to record some members of the party spent the afternoon in a cinema!

At 6.30 in the evening we had a most memorable last meal in Switzerland—fried steak—and then boarded our train for Calais. We safely and rather hilariously passed the customs at Delle; slept fitfully across France, crossed a calm channel and braved the unpredictable customs at Folkestone. At this point the conductor of this party uncrossed his fingers for a moment and C * * * * * was left behind on the station for having "buckled" a toe at Grindelwald, he was enjoying ill-health and limped along in sandals tied with string. However, he was only ten minutes behind the rest of us at Victoria and soon the last of the party were being carried imperceptibly to Bury and if their somnolent thoughts went to Switzerland again perhaps they could hear the persuasive words, "more café" or "more soup?"

P.S.—*Readers who have had the persistence to read so far may remember the asterisk at Kreuz in paragraph 2. It is an attempt to get past the Editor's guard a small free advertisement for a "smashing" hotel.

J. T. C. Notes.

This term has been as active for the Corps as it has in sports and a good deal of work and training has been carried out, terminating in the annual week at camp for many of the Contingent. The majority of the instruction has been done by our P.S.I., Sergeant Mayhew, and Lieutenant Butcher; thus our own Post-Certificate "A" N.C.O.'s have had little to do. Lieutenant Butcher, who served in the Royal Corps of Signals during the War, has now undertaken to form a Signals Platoon for the benefit of these N.C.O.s, and on the last day of term several large crates of wireless sets and equipment were delivered. Several boys spent many hours preparing and painting a section of the old carpenter's shop so that it can be used as a Signals Room.

Our three Field Days were all carried out successfully, but to the disappointment of the younger members who never seemed able to dispose of all their blank ammunition before the cease fire sounded. The P.W.W. Camp staff organised our first exercise in the Barton Mills area early in May. At the end of the month the senior N.C.O.s, in conjunction with Mr. Hassall, planned a map exercise, with each section covering about ten miles across country. This was carried out extremely well. Half way through June, the Adjutant and P.S.I.s of the 4th Battalion The Suffolk Regiment arranged another exercise in the Barton Mills area, with which a good deal of instruction was also given.

The Annual Inspection of the Corps was carried out on June 29th by Colonel F. C. Nottingham, of East Anglian District; so far no detailed report has come through, but it promises to be satisfactory. We were lucky enough to obtain a drummer for the March Past, which greatly improved the standard of the marching.

A good deal of shooting has been carried out on the miniature .22 Range and the results this year have been very fair, nineteen members of the Corps qualifying as First Class Shots under the conditions for the Empire Test. Cadet Laws won the Daily Telegraph Certificate for the highest aggregate in the Empire Test and C.S.M. Ross won the Bell Certificate for the highest score in a competition amongst First Class Shots.

Finally it is pleasing to note that 54 out of the total of 56 members of the Corps have qualified as efficient during the past year.

J.T.C. CAMP, JULY 23rd—31st, 1948.

In a blaze of early morning sunshine, a strange but welcome contrast to the drabness of the previous fortnight, the School contingent set out merrily on their journey to the Annual Camp at Wretham. Kitbags were packed, spare khaki stores and weapons loaded, and all powder dry. The Motorways of Mulley were ready to go, when one soldier with face flushed and flurried, cap in hand, was seen scampering back up the well-known and well-worn drive to School. Alas! a man's best friend is his rifle! but where was that elusive sprite? After a few anxious moments cadet C., this victim of pernicious circumstance, reappeared clutching his "gun" tightly to his breast, his red face one large smile. All was well and we were off. It was a grand party.

Wretham is a lonely spot, so typical of those chosen by military wizards, and one could not help wondering, with fingers crossed, how it would appeal to the boys. There was a tenseness as our O.C. reported to the Adjutant; with feelings mingled with strange expectancy and perhaps a terrifying dismay, we surveyed the quiet desolation of our future home, nothing for miles. In such militant surroundings cadet J. enquired tremulously whether he should salute the R.S.M. Oh dear! However, our doubts and fears were ill-founded. The Colonel of the Coldstream Guards was human after all, and, what is more, we were the objects of a respectful curiosity, we were the first contingent to arrive. What a reception these regular soldiers gave us! installed in a W.A.A.F. site—an ex-W.A.A.F. site, the boys quickly discovered—we were as comfortable as the proverbial pea; our huts soon took on the appearance of a palatial, yet disciplined splendour—at any rate when cadet H. had grasped the fact that his kit had to be laid out every morning and cadet O. discovered that he couldn't get under his blankets before 4.30 p.m.

The training areas were good, and thanks to admirable assistance given by our regular P.S.I., all boys present should now be well on their way to Certificate "A." But perhaps the greatest asset of all—the sun shone and shone! A 2-inch group at 100 yards on the .303 range at Thetford made cadet M. forget his aching shoulders, while cadet J., the poor unfortunate under 15 and therefore not allowed to touch those big nasty bullets, emulated Adolf, pasting up in the butts the seemingly infinite number of small holes made by the "six-shooters" of his inconsiderate fellows. Despite the heat and rough-going in thick bracken, there was intensive practice in battle drill, a little realism being added by the banging of blanks the whirr of rattles and the fire-eating performances of the demonstration Bren-carrier flame throwers. There was certainly no sign of that attitude of fear and hate, which so often characterised the real battle schools during the war. Nor was the situation completely void of humour, although the allusions of the P.S.I. to Fred Karno and Bertram Mills were not always fully appreciated. In future diminutive cadet E., when asked by the cadet C.S.M. what he is doing with his rifle, must learn to give the correct reply. The Royal Artillery assisted and a troop of 25-pounders, blasting away with H.E. and smoke, provided all the thrills of a travelling circus. Strangely enough, the army P.T. was well liked, a fact probably due to the "wakey, wakey" jargon of the instructor Sergt.-Major. As the last word in comfort the N.A.A.F.I. girls, complete with "char and wads," paid a mid-morning visit to all training areas.

It would be difficult to imagine better administrative planning; thanks to Monty the Army certainly seems to have taken on a new look. Billets, food, sanitary arrangements, recreational transport were all first-class. Here perhaps a cheery word to the would-be recruit; although it is true that each cadet has a light over his bed, it is quite wrong to assume that he is made to read when he gets there—nor does the C.S.M. distribute early morning tea. The cadets' dining hall was tastefully adorned with flowers and a certain feminine charm; a huge "what's cooking" notice greeted the hungry little men, to say nothing of the gruff voice of the messing officer, "hot or cold, Sir?" Leisure time activities included a visit to Thetford, basket ball games with Ipswich School and several bathing trips. A delightful open-air pool at Loch Neaton proved popular; the surroundings of the Loch were extremely pleasant, and although no monster was discovered, it was possible to obtain tea and ice-cream. At the Thetford pool cadet M. found great difficulty in restraining his feasting eyes from the form of a would-be Thetford Venus. However, the siren's allure was not enough and he was drawn from the danger by his half-hearted and somewhat reluctant comrades. The camp cinema functioned nightly and was not restricted to military films.

The whole week was good; he would be a strange person indeed who had not enjoyed it. Apart from any military consultations, the open-air existence, the corporate life, the mutual give and take, the living together and sharing of experiences as human beings, were invaluable to all. It is certain that the cadets, no matter what their feelings towards the Army be, learned a good deal about life from it. We returned to Bury on Saturday the 31st, exactly one week after setting out; a sun-burnt band of warriors, happy if perhaps a little leg-weary, debussed and, overloaded with gear, wended their way slowly back up the school drive. Something achieved and well done!

High-light of the week: What do you think of the soldier who himself completes the "disease" column of a sick report before he has seen the M.O.? Ask Cpl. S.

Other J.T.C.s present: Framlingham College, Ipswich School, Gresham School, Cambridge and County High, Hertford School, Brentwood School, Felsted School, and a Platoon of O.C.T.U. Cadets. E.B.

Scout Notes.

There is little to report this term in the way of progress towards the Second and First Class Badges, but the camping experience gained by many of the Troop should be a great help in the future.

The District Whitsuntide Camp was held at Hardwick from Saturday, 15th, to Monday, 17th May, in exceptionally fine weather. 16 members of the Troop attended the Camp and won the Sir Pierce Lacy Shield for Athletics, together with a number of individual prizes.

A camping and pioneering display was exhibited on Sports Day, showing much skill and keenness on the part of those who prepared it.

The chief enjoyment of the past months lies undoubtedly in the Summer Camp, held at Stortethwaite in Borrowdale from 10th to 24th August. 17 boys attended. Various climbs, including the ascent of Scafell Pike, were successfully undertaken, and a visit to the Grasmere Sports aroused much interest in fell racing and Cumberland wrestling. The weather interfered considerably with scouting activities, and the cooks often had a trying time keeping their fires going in gales and heavy rain. However, their experiences provided good training in ingenuity and self-reliance, and it is pleasing to note that there were no complaints or grumbles even when conditions were at their worst.

We have as usual lost some of our older scouts at the end of the summer term. We wish them every success and happiness in their future careers, and trust that they will carry on the traditions and spirit of scouting. I should like in particular to express our appreciation of the services rendered by G. J. Marshall during the past 8 years as P.L., T.L., and A.S.M. His keenness and hard work have been of very great assistance to me personally in running the Troop.

D.A.Y.

Cub Notes.

We have not had much excitement this term. We attended a District Rally at Hardwick in June, but did not go to the County Rally this year. A good number of Cubs have now gained their First Star, and Proficiency badges have been awarded to M. Shelbourne, D. Bruce, J. Lacey and K. Rush.

A number of Cubs will be leaving this term, and to them we say, Good Hunting. We hope they will join a Scout Troop wherever they may be. To those who will return to the Pack next term, we hope the standard of Cubbing will be really good.

Sixth Form Library Notes.

During the term many new books have been presented to the Library. They have been put to good use by the Sixth Form.

The Wealth of England, 1496—1760 (G. N. Clark)
 Economic Development in the Nineteenth Century, France, Germany, Russia and U.S.A. (L. C. A. Knowles)
 Great Britain and the Empire (J. A. Williamson)
 A History of the English People, 1905—1915 (Halévy)
 Tables of Physical and Chemical Constants (Kaye & Laky)
 An Introduction to Organic Chemistry (J. W. Baker)
 Inorganic Chemistry (M. Lowrey)
 Atomic Physics (Tolansky), presented by J. F. Tripp
 Electricity and Magnetism (S. Starling)
 Wayside and Woodland Trees (E. Step)
 Illustrations of British Flora (Fitch & Smith)
 Plant Form and Function (Fritsch & Salisbury)

Vegetable Mould and Earthworms (Darwin)
 An Insect Book for the Pocket (Sanders)
 A Bird Book for the Pocket (Sanders)
 A Beast Book for the Pocket (Sanders)
 Biology for Medical Students (Henschell & Cook)
 Europe. A Regional Geography (M. Shackelton)
 North America (E. G. Ashton)
 Sovietland (G. D. B. Gray)
 Canada (Griffith Taylor) presented by D. Mayhew
 North America (J. R. Smith & M. O. Phillips)

Good use has been made of the library this term, especially of the Historical and the Geographical sections. But again I must emphasise the necessity of recording each book which leaves its shelf. Readers have been very careless about this. This term despite the fact that books have been protected by wire doors many have been taken without permission. Many do not consider the position of the Librarian who, when asked for a certain book, finds it missing and unrecorded. He cannot wander around the School asking all the potential borrowers if they have it. Even if he had the time or inclination it should be completely unnecessary. So please remember, ask the Librarian for the key, see that your book is recorded, and when you have finished your reading replace it on its shelf. Then everyone will be satisfied.

Finally, may I remind all seniors who are leaving that there is the custom of presenting a book to the Library.

Savings Notes.

This term the total amount collected is £12 7s. 6d. There has again been a considerable falling off, which we hope will be remedied next term.

This Summer term seems to have been more active than those of previous years, for no fewer than seventeen 1st XI. cricket matches were played. The swimming sports were held on the last Tuesday of term, and the first few weeks of the term were taken up with preparations for the Athletic Sports.

On the 26th April the School had a half-holiday to celebrate the Silver Wedding of their Majesties the King and Queen.

In May the Boarders attended the Empire Youth Service at the Cathedral, the Head Boy reading the Bidding. Later on in the term the Headmaster and Prefects attended an Ordination Service.

At the West Suffolk School Sports held in Bury early in May, in which fourteen schools competed, we became champion school in the 15—17 age group. Congratulations to the following competitors who won their events: R. B. Watson (open half-mile), A. J. Beckerleg (Javelin), B. R. Rush (Discus), M. H. Clarke (Long Jump), A. G. Lee (Junior High Jump). Several of our competitors also took part in the Suffolk County Junior Trials held at Stowmarket.

On 12th May excitement was high as the School embussed early in the morning for Cambridge where the day was spent at Fenner's watching the first day's play of the Cambridge University match against the Australians. We were lucky enough to see the Australians in the field and then the first three of the Australians at the wicket.

As Whitsun came so early in the School calendar half-term was taken after Sports Day when the Boarders were able to go home for a five-day holiday.

The Athletic Sports were held in excellent weather. Some exciting contests were seen and several new records were made.

The past of another of our Old Boys was brought to light when a photographer from the National Geographical Magazine visited the School in search of photographs to illustrate an article on John Winthrop, first Governor of Massachusetts. The photographer took many photographs of the red-capped School Prefects poring over a globe of the world!

One of the highlights of the term was, of course, the Old Boys' Cricket match. There was a very close finish, and we thank those Old Boys who formed the team for such an enjoyable match.

Old Boys' Notes.

F. B. Gow has now been released from the Army and will enter University College, Southampton, in September.

We congratulate O. J. W. Gilbert on taking a First Class Honours in his Finals at Manchester University and D. M. Gardiner on his gaining his Degree at Cambridge.

A. L. R. Davies has come home from Aden to be demobbed and intends to continue his studies with a view to being an architect.

We were very pleased to see M. R. Wilson after his trip to the West Indies in H.M.S. Devonshire.

D. C. Shelbourne will by now have finished his course at the Ford Institute of Agricultural Engineering. We were pleased to welcome him on Founder's Day.

K. A. Hughes, who is making the R.A.F. his career, has written from Glamorgan giving news of himself.

D. M. Lucas was a welcome visitor towards the end of term. He is now serving on the aircraft-carrier H.M.S. Theseus. Amid a party of Sandhurst Cadets being shown around he found A. G. B. Cobbold.

C. W. A. Bull and E. Sims are now writers in the Navy, the former at Chatham, the latter at Portsmouth.

Congratulations to C. A. H. Hodge on his taking his Degree (Class II. A) at Bangor.

Old Burians' Association.

The Annual Cricket Match was played on 17th July. A report will be found elsewhere in this issue; suffice it here to say that it was full of interest right to the end and much enjoyed by all. Some O.B.'s had not played since last year's match, and one had not touched a bat for eight years; the result therefore gave no small satisfaction to the Old Boys.

The Annual Meeting of the Association which followed the cricket match was well attended, and so also was the Annual Dinner, some members travelling from London, Norwich and Ipswich to be present.

It is with great satisfaction that we record that E. F. R. Stearn, President of the O.B.A., is making satisfactory progress after his recent operation for appendicitis. His absence at the Dinner was much regretted and our thanks are due to S. M. Oliver for consenting at short notice to preside.

Donations to the War Memorial Fund continue to come in. To date approximately £110 has been received. The Committee have approved a plaque very similar to the one erected in the Cathedral after the 1914-18 war. It is hoped to have this erected in time for the unveiling to take place on Founder's Day next year.

Any O.B.'s interested in attending a London Dinner are asked to notify G.E.C. Tooth, 2 East Sheen Avenue, S.W. 14, who will be pleased to make the necessary arrangements if he receives a sufficient number of names.

AN APPEAL TO ALL LEAVING SCHOOL.

By joining the Old Burians' Association you can retain contact with the School and with the friends you made there.

The Association depends for its new members on those leaving School. You are cordially invited to join and to help the Association in the many ways in which it can support and help the School.

The Headmaster will be pleased to supply any boy leaving School with details of the Association.

AN APPEAL TO THOSE WHO HAVE LEFT.

If you have not joined the Association your support and membership is invited. The ways in which the Association can help the School are innumerable and the contact that can be maintained between old School acquaintances is invaluable.
